RAINIER VISTA

To their many classmates and friends this, the twelfth volume of the RAINIER VISTA.

RAINIER VISTA
.....1941.....

Preface

During the school year, many various and interesting activities transpire which may be of interest to you, our friends.

If we may portray the four branches of school life, spiritual, mental, physical, and social, in a clearer light, so that you catch the spirit of Auburn Academy—then our efforts will have been repaid.

Appreciation

Cooperation has been manifested on all sides to help in the production of this particular issue of the RAINIER VISTA. The staff wishes here to express a hearty thanks to all who have aided financially or otherwise; and especially are they indebted to Mr. Worden of the Acme Engraving Company, Mr. Collins of the College Press, and Mr. Mehling and Mr. Schoepflin who took the pictures.

Dedication

To Elder N. F. Pease, who during his stay at Auburn has been an example in Christian principles, and who has strengthened every one by his counsel and friendliness, this volume of the RAINIER VISTA is gratefully dedicated. Elder Pease has guided many through difficulties, and he will continue to lead us into useful lives of service.

Our Conference President Speaks

If there is one work more vital than another in these days of uncertainty, it is that of character-building. The problems facing the present generation dwarf those of the past. Young men and women graduating today are confronted with perils unprecedented in their magnitude.

In order to prepare the graduates from Auburn Academy to meet these mighty problems which they must face, it is the purpose of the board and faculty to so arrange their program as to make character-building foremost. We do not in any sense intend to ignore the value of scientific knowledge or literary requirements. We are conscious of the fact that to compete in this modern world one must be mentally equipped; that the young men and women completing work in our school should manifest strong intellectual development. But character must be paramount.

To develop both the character and the mind in their proper relationship one to the other is the purpose of every board member.

C. A. SCRIVEN,
Chairman Academy Board.

Academy School Board

Principal's Message

For the price of a suit of clothes—$24.00, Peter Styvestant purchased Manhatten Island from the Indians. He, as shrewd as he was, had no adequate idea of the potentialities of the purchase or the subsequent developments of the island.

No one could foresee or imagine all the phases, increases, and social relationships involved, but it was a good financial investment because of its marvelous increase in value.

Even more fabulous increases are possible in other fields than finance and in a much shorter time. Many a young person has invested the price of a suit of clothes in Christian education and by toil, hardship, and privation achieved results even more extensive and permanent than the island purchased by the Dutch Patroon.

R. L. HUBBS, Principal.

W. L. Schoepflin

Preceptor

Old Testament History

English I

Always tactful and understanding is our Dean, who with his pleasant manner, directs "his boys" in the way that they should go. He is ever ready to counsel, joke, or teach, in an equally competent manner.

Metta Johnson-Hubbs

Registrar

Petite, energetic, and happy, Mrs. Hubbs graciously welcomes each new student with a smile as she efficiently irons out the problems that confront the new-comer as he registers.

J. G. Mehling, Jr.

Accountant

General Business

Business goes speeding along with Mr. Mehling and his Studebaker. He is ever as energetic in his office as when on the skating floor; for he says "business before pleasure."

Evlyn M. M. Lindberg

Preceptress

English

A jolly good chum to many a girl is she, and troubles become as chaff before a wind as they are laid before this lady who so ably fills her place as preceptress and teacher.

N. F. Pease

Bible

His quiet, dignified bearing, impresses everyone with the thought that he does know what he's talking about. His pleasing ways tell to all that he is living the life that counts.

Lois Bruce-Mehling

Associate Accountant

Typing

Anyone who enters the office at almost anytime will find Mrs. Mehling conscientiously dispatching some office task; for her idea is "to live for those who love her and the good that she can do."

V. R. Jewett

Science

Mathematics

The mind has a great capacity for facts, according to Mr. Jewett. As you watch him in the classroom, in the laboratory, or while directing his construction crew, you may very easily come to this conclusion.

Florenza Ritacca-Bringle

Home Economics

With Mrs. Bringle, to have an idea is to put it into use; therefore we enjoy many interesting niceties that add greatly to our life at Auburn.

J. A. Lofgren

Woodwork Shop Superintendent

Woodwork

Industrial success, coupled with the welfare of the shop boys, is Mr. Lofgren's chief concern; and by his efforts many boys have been enabled to work their way through school.

Doris Parkinson

Music

French

With a sincere desire to help everyone with his problems, and to bring to all a genuine appreciation of that which is best in music, Miss Parkinson is a real friend of the school.

A. B. Bringle

History

Mr. Bringle, a versatile man, is very much interested in living. Whether at work in the library, in the classroom, or at play, he always has time to be friendly.

G. R. Knudsen

Shop Sales Manager

Our Shop Sales Manager is characterized by his friendliness, interest in the students, and by his own individuality.

Seniors

So quickly it seems now, that life at Auburn Academy is over for the seniors of '41 and how perfect it was!

During the freshman year, Academy life was something new and bright and perhaps a trifle bewildering . . . as sophomores the '41-ers wanted to know what made things go 'round, and they were quick in finding out, too! . . . and then came the time when they were Juniors,—when life was a merry-go-round of activity and fun—oh, and study of course . . . all of a sudden the class jumped into the limelight as Seniors—top flight . . . to end too soon in graduation . . . and goodbye.

So the class of '41 leaves its mark and goes its way—taking hope and courage, faith and eager confidence, to find their places in the years of service which lie ahead. They leave a bit of their shining light and carefree laughter to enrich forever the halls of Auburn Academy.

The Music Department

There is probably no other one department in the school which offers more opportunities for enjoyment and pleasurable activity than does the music department. Various vocal and instrumental groups under the instruction of Miss Parkinson are trained to appear on sacred and secular programs and to be of real service to both the church and the academy. Students of the directing class have also given valuable assistance in many of the song services throughout the year.

An outstanding feature of the music department was the presentation of the cantata, "Esther" in the Academy Chapel; new choir robes introduced for the first time at this performance are now used each Sabbath by the church choir. To the ladies of the Dorcas Society who so kindly made the robes, not only the music students, but the entire student body express their sincere gratitude.

In every phase of music endeavor in the academy one purpose predominates: to make music the uplifting and inspirational avenue of blessing it was designed to be.

Ministerial Band Officers

One of the most important phases of our spiritual life, is the Sabbath School, conducted by the students, with Mrs. Gustin as superintendent. Each week the Sabbath School officers do their part in bringing us near to God.

Mrs. Broder has charge of the Missionary Volunteer Society. This organization is especially for the Young People, and carries on an active work through the progressive classes, mailing, and distributing bands.

Spiritual Life

The spiritual side of our life is emphasized here at Auburn through the church, Sabbath School, and Missionary Volunteer meetings.

Elder Pease, along with his regular work as district leader, meets with the ministerial band early every Sabbath morning. Here a great deal of good is accomplished in training students along evangelistic lines. Methods of preparing and delivering sermons are studied, and on different occasions students go to nearby churches where they speak, putting into practice what they have learned, or render special music.

Casa Loma Culture Club

The one hundred occupants of Gibson Hall who form the membership of the Casa Loma Culture Club have done justice to their aim, "Loyal to the Royal in Thyself" during this past year. They have worked, studied, and played together in a way becoming to Christian young men.

Every Wednesday evening is devoted to a club meeting, with some member leading out in the devotional worship, after which the president of the club conducts the regular meeting where matters of business and pleasure are discussed and decided.

The outstanding activity of the first semester, which proved to be a grand success, was the Father-Son Banquet in honor of fathers and many business men who acted as foster fathers. Besides this feature, the Open House and distinctive Pay Program were sponsored by the club officers of the second semester.

Regina Culture Club

Regina Club has certainly had an enthusiastic spirit this year which has been well reflected in their many activities, especially in their Open House, given for all their friends, the Annual Program, and the Reception for the Casa Loma boys. The weekly club meetings are always "peppy," yet business-like, and each meeting is eagerly anticipated by all the club members.

The Regina girls take special pride in their recent project, a beautiful new davenport and chair set, which was made possible by the combined efforts of last year's and this year's club in presenting their successful Annual Programs.

On Monday nights the girls receive a part of their spiritual education in their small prayer-band groups which gather for a short period of meditation and prayer.

The girls have enjoyed this year in Regina Hall, and cordially invite many new girls to join them next year for more good times and pleasant memories.

Village Club

Of the many Christian young people attending Auburn Academy, nearly two score are loyal village students. We are all devoted to our school and are anxious to cooperate in every phase of school activities.

With the able help and guidance of Elder Pease, our group maintains an organization called the "Tillicum Club." In weekly meetings we discuss plans for bettering the club and our school life in general. Tillicum officers are chosen annually and our sessions are conducted in a parliamentary manner. Each month we spend an evening of fun and recreation together under the leadership of Elder Pease or some other faculty member. Often the time is spent in skating or playing games in the gymnasium.

Each year the club sponsors a program in order to obtain money for a project that will benefit the school. Recently the club members placed an Auburn Academy sign along the highway near the school.

The Tillicum Club is always happy to welcome new members. Our club is congenial, for "Tillicum" means "friendly." Perhaps you may be a village student of Auburn Academy next school year, if so, we as members of the village club, heartily invite you to share the good times we have together.

"God has so made the mind of man that a peculiar deliciousness resides in the fruits of personal industry."

—Wilberforce.

It is 7:15 A. M. !—and time for the girls to be on duty in the kitchen. Here, every morning they meet the smiling face of Mrs. Bringle, the matron, who plans a well-balanced menu for each day.

The kitchen this year supplies work for thirty-six girls who prepare meals for one hundred eighty students with healthy appetites who eat heartily in the dining room.

In order to preserve health for everyone, good, wholesome bread is baked in our fairly modern bakery. It is here also that the many delicacies which draw the students to the dining room, are produced.

Auburn Academy is proud to be able to provide work for young people who have a vision and to train them for service in later life.

Subsidiary Plants

The past year has seen great improvements in our heating system. The former greenhouse, which adjoined the old boiler room, was torn down and in its place stands a new, modern plant.

The new boiler has been fitted with a new large coal stoker and a sixty-foot smoke-stack. It furnishes steam heat for the two dormitories, the administration building, and the furniture shop.

The plant now consists of two low pressure boilers for heat and hot water, and a high pressure boiler which furnishes steam for the laundry and the kitchen. The plant is supervised by Mr. Percy Winslow.

The laundry, operated by approximately twenty girls under the supervision of Mrs. E. Whitehouse, furnishes the students with clean clothes each week.

The farm, though not one of the major industries of the school, is a valuable asset. It supplies the school with fresh vegetables, and a fine herd of cows produces plenty of milk daily. A group of hard working boys look after the small herd of heifers, keep the team of horses in first class condition, and care for the flock of white Leghorns which supply us with about 150 eggs a day.

Auburn Academy Furniture Plant

On the campus of our school is located one of the most efficient furniture plants in the Northwest. It is a plant fully equipped with modern machinery and tools.

Our factory deals solely in soft wood furniture. Hemlock is the wood that is used, because it does not have pitch to any degree and can also take a high polish finish.

All of the work is done by young men of academic age and each specializes in a certain phase of woodcraft. If a boy is assigned a task at a machine, or, perhaps, in assembling chests, he learns to perform that particular task efficiently, and that becomes his special work.

From the plant, the furniture is distributed to our many retailers. Most of our furniture goes to business houses in the Northwest, but some of it has gone to the sunny shores of Hawaii and some to the far northland, Alaska. So the next time you see an excellent piece of soft-wood furniture in a northwestern store, inquire and you may learn that it was made at the Academy.

For any boy wishing a fine Christian education in a fine Academy, if he has energy and ambition, there is a place for him at the Academy woodwork factory.

DESCRIPTIVE

The buildings consist of two separate dormitories, in addition to the administration building, a gymnasium, woodwork shop, laundry and engine room, commodious garages, and five cottages for the teachers.

The location of the school is unusually attractive, on the edge of a plateau overlooking the Green River valley, with snow-covered Olympics visible to the west, and beautiful Mount Rainier dominating the landscape toward the east. The buildings are set in a campus of several acres, which is inset with numerous flowers and shrubs, fringed on three sides with evergreen trees of various kinds. The academy farm consists of about 100 acres, much of which is improved and growing good crops. We have several acres in garden of various kinds, besides the area used for hay, oats, corn, potatoes, and vegetables. A chicken house shelters an excellent flock of hens which supplies our kitchen with fresh eggs. A commodious barn houses a herd of twenty fine Jersey cows that supply our table with rich milk and cream.

The administration building contains, in addition to offices, music studios, and smaller class rooms, four large class rooms and a spacious chapel seating more than two hundred. Another large room is devoted to the library of two thousand five hundred volumes.

CO-OPERATION

Parents are requested to read carefully all regulations, and suggestions so that in placing their children in Auburn Academy they may do so with a full knowledge of the requirements. They are urged to give the principal and faculty their hearty support and co-operation in upholding the regulations of the school. This they can do by granting no permissions that will in any way interfere with the routine, and by showing to their children that the principal and faculty have their complete confidence and approval.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

In connection with the academy are a number of organizations, religious and social, which give the students opportunity to develop leadership and their talents of speaking and writing, as well as training in various kinds of missionary work.

Most prominent of these is the Missionary Volunteer Society, conducted throughout the school year by the students, and working in harmony with the General Department. Many active bands carry on the work of this organization, including the Master Comrade, Literature, and Sunshine bands. These bands tend greatly to stimulate missionary activities among the students.

The academy Sabbath School is conducted largely by the students, assisted by teachers.

The students of the academy have developed an organization known as the Associated Student Body of Auburn Academy. The purpose of this organization is to promote the social and cultural interests of the student body.

THE STUDENT'S PLEDGE

It is distinctly understood that every student who presents himself for admission to this school thereby pledges himself to observe its regulations, and live in harmony with its ideals and purposes. Unless he is willing to do this freely and without reservation, he will not be admitted to the school. If this pledge is broken, he will be retained only by the sufferance of the faculty for such time as he is not a serious detriment to others. Students who fail to respond to appeals addressed to their manhood and womanhood or sense of honor, and those whose influence is found to be harmful, will not be allowed to remain in the school even if they have been guilty of no specially culpable offense. On the other hand the faculty pledges the parents that they will faithfully endeavor, to the limit of their ability, to help young people who seem not to appreciate the privilege and responsibilities that come to them. No student will be lightly dropped from the school, and parents may be assured that their children will be given every opportunity to develop Christian characters as long as they show a desire to co-operate with the teachers toward that end.

SOCIAL GUIDANCE

To assist the student in moving through the academy life with a minimum of friction and at the same time to contribute to his physical, mental and moral powers is the goal of all academy regulations. A kindly application of the following broad basic principles is the aim of our faculty.

No student is retained who uses tobacco in any form. Nor can we tolerate profane or indecent language, disorderly conduct, card playing, gambling, dancing, improper associations, the possessing or reading of novels and story-magazines, visiting of pool rooms or other places of detrimental influence. Neither can we allow students to attend the theater, moving-picture show or any other entertainment of an objectionable character, because these interfere with the student's work and exert a wrong influence in the school.

The seventh day is observed as the Sabbath, and a proper quiet and decorum is expected of all students. Engaging in unnecessary work or improper recreation on this day is out of harmony with the spirit of the institution.

Young men and women may associate in a frank, manly and womanly manner at times and in places that are proper and in harmony with the spirit of the school; but sentimentalism, note writing, flirting, strolling together about the grounds or elsewhere, loitering about the campus or sitting together in public services are not conducive to the best progress in study or to the good name of the school.

As this academy was established for the purpose of giving a distinctly Christian education, no student is retained who either publicly or secretly seeks to disseminate immoral or atheistic ideas among his fellow-students.

The Home is not a public building. No lady or gentleman would think of entering a private home without permission; hence people living outside, in calling upon members of the home family are expected to observe the civilities.

It is expected that all students have respect for academy property; and in case of destruction of property of any kind, such as breaking windows, dishes, or tools, the honest student reports the breakage and settles for it.

Because modesty in dress is conducive to sound character building, students dress simply and sensibly, avoiding extremes. For girls, simple dresses are recommended. The excessive use of cosmetics, the wearing of French or other high heels, extremely narrow skirts, sleeveless dresses, low backs, transparent waists, jewelry such as necklaces, finger rings or bracelets is not in harmony with the principles of the institution. We strongly urge parents to supervise their daughter's wardrobe, and save her embarrassment by eliminating anything out of harmony with these principles. We do not require uniforms.

The faculty, believing that caps and gowns are in harmony with the principles of modesty and economy, have voted that the Academic dress be worn by graduates at all the closing exercises.

Students are requested to refrain from card playing of any kind, including flinch and other like games, also such unprofitable games as checkers or chess.

Students who are not Seventh-day Adventists may attend the academy without feeling any embarrassment whatever, so long as they do not interfere with the plans for which the school is established.

It is expected that young ladies will be properly chaperoned whenever leaving the campus.

Unmarried students whose parents or legal guardians do not reside in the vicinity of the school should board and room at the academy. Certain circumstances might arise where an exception should be made to this rule. Such cases will be considered by the faculty upon written request with reasons fully stated by the applicant.

If it seems necessary, or to the best interest of the student, faculty permission may be obtained for correspondence work or private lessons.

Special examinations are given when necessary, in which case a fee of fifty cents is charged for each period test and $1.00 for semester tests.

Should a student be absent fifteen per cent or more during the semester, his grade is forfeited and may be obtained only by special vote of the faculty.

The management provides from time to time pleasant social gatherings and outings for the students. All gatherings of whatever nature, have a faculty chaperon, and a list of students invited is submitted to the principal at least two days beforehand.

Students do not borrow or lend except by special permission.

Parents are requested not to give permissions that conflict with the rules of the school.

School work missed just before or after Thanksgiving and winter holidays is made up by examinations, at a cost of fifty cents for each examination.

All classes are entered or dropped by a voucher signed by the principal.

The playing of rag time, jazz, or swing music is not in harmony with the ideals of the institution.

No firearms are allowed on the school premises.

The faculty may announce other suggestions from time to time if it seems advisable.

DORMITORIES

The dormitories are in charge of experienced teachers who understand young people, and are able to help them solve their problems. Constant appeal is made for sincere co-operation on the part of every student in maintaining wholesome standards of living on the principle that kindness and confidence are more efficacious than stringent rules. Careful attention is given to the study of the personality of each student, and methods are employed that will best bring out the individuality of each. In a special way the government of the Home rests upon the mutual good understanding between teacher and pupil.

It frequently happens that students are unexpectedly called for, and inasmuch as the home management should at all times know the whereabouts of those under their charge, no student should leave the campus without permission from the preceptor or preceptress.

It is desired that the school be quiet and orderly, and that students shall conduct themselves in a manner consistent with a refined home. Loud talking, running up and down stairs, entering rooms without the consent of the occupant, and scuffling anywhere in the building are out of order.

Heating and lighting appliances other than those furnished by the school are not permitted in the dormitories. No special wiring of any kind may be installed except by order of the management.

Several years ago a new dormitory was erected for the boys. It is a modern building with hot and cold water in every room and hardwood floors throughout. Boys having exposed nails in their shoes are required to leave their shoes in the locker room and wear slippers or smooth soled shoes when entering the dormitory.

Picture moulding is provided in all rooms. No tacks are permitted to be driven into the walls.

The school home is conducted on the same principles as are all well-regulated Christian homes. Morning and evening worship are maintained in the school homes throughout the year. The preceptor and preceptress, under whose direction the worship is conducted, give careful study to these exercises in order that all may be benefited by attending. Every student is expected to be present, and those in charge of the home require a reasonable excuse for absence.

All students are expected to attend public services on the Sabbath, unless excused by the preceptor or preceptress, in which case they will remain in their own rooms.

Owing to the modern easy means of travel, there is a strong tendency on the part of students and parents for frequent week-end visits home. This, however, has been found to be detrimental to the best interests of the school. The Board has therefore recommended that the faculty do not grant permission for such visits more often than once in six weeks, except in extreme cases. Requests should be made to the principal by the parents, in writing, several days before leave of absence is desired. In all cases the faculty reserves the right to decide as seems necessary for the best interest of the school.

Flesh foods are not served in the dining room, and must not be brought into the school homes. Parents are requested not to send food to their children, unless it be fresh fruit. Students are not permitted to take food from the dining room nor to have food in their rooms other than fresh fruit, except in case of illness when a minimum service charge of ten cents will be made for any tray taken to the dormitories.

A student being absent from the dormitory after evening worship without permission is considered a serious violation of the rules of the dormitory.

All trips farther than Auburn from the school must be authorized by the principal.

The school is not responsible for any personal property left on the premises after a student leaves school.

Phonographs and radios are not permitted in the dormitories.

Do not bring popular music.

WHAT TO BRING

Each student should bring three sheets, three pillow slips, a pillow, and a bed spread, warm blankets or comforters, towels, dresser scarf, and a cover for his study table, 30 x 48 inches; also work clothes, and a laundry bag. Our denominational books such as "The Testimonies," "Desire of Ages," "Christ's Object Lessons," "Steps to Christ," "Christ in Song," will be of help. No rugs, carpets or window curtains are furnished with the rooms, but should be brought by the student if desired. A few pictures for the walls are desirable. Girls should bring curtains for one window 5 x 6 feet. Boys should bring curtains for two windows 5 x 2½ feet. Girls should bring a curtain for clothes closet door which is 6½ x 2⅓ feet. The boys' and girls' dormitories are equipped with single beds. Each student should be provided with a pair of noiseless slippers to be worn during study period.

MISCELLANEOUS

How to remit. Send money by draft, check, or money order payable to Auburn Academy, not to an individual.

Students need but little spending money, and parents are urged to require a monthly statement of expenditures from their children.

Mail for students residing in the Homes should be addressed to them in care of the Academy, Auburn, Washington.

Tickets should be bought and baggage checked to Auburn, which is reached by all main line steam roads. If coming by stage from Seattle to Auburn, take the Enumclaw bus, and ask to be let out at the academy stop. Those notifying the academy are met at Auburn.

No student under fourteen years of age is permitted to reside in the school Home unless he has completed the eighth grade or has made special arrangements with the school management.

Students arriving Sunday and Monday of the opening week of school are given free transportation from Auburn to the academy. Students arriving late are charged for transportation. A charge is made for baggage hauled from Auburn at any time.

Withdrawal. If withdrawal becomes necessary for any reason, the proper method is to secure a drop voucher from the principal in order to avoid further charges for expenses.

School supplies, stationery, and toilet articles may be purchased at the academy supply store.

Automobiles may not be brought to the school by students unless they have first made special arrangements with the principal. Experience has proved that free access to an automobile during the school year is detrimental to good work.

The school assumes no responsibility in forwarding personal belongings such as clothing, blankets or books to students who withdraw from the school.

Labor credit either by students or parents is not transferable nor redeemable in cash except as authorized by Board action.

For the convenience and safety of the students the faculty members will provide transportation to and from town when necessary. A charge of ten cents per passenger will be made for this service.

It is expected that every student will be immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, and typhoid fever before entering Auburn Academy in September.

EXPENSES

	BOARDING STUDENTS Per Month	VILLAGE STUDENTS Per Month
Board, Room, and Tuition	$37.00
Tuition		$11.00
*Deposit	30.00	10.00
	Per Semester	Per Semester
Entrance Fee	3.75	3.75

A five per cent discount is allowed on cash when accounts are settled at the close of each school month according to agreement.

The full semester rate will be charged for tuition, regardless of absence or late entrance. Students are not allowed to participate in class exercises or receive their diplomas until their accounts are paid in full, or satisfactory arrangements are made for payment.

No transcript of grades is issued for a student having an unpaid account at the academy. This is a recommended policy followed by all our denominational schools.

LABOR

The Union Education Board recommends that the required labor charge be included in the monthly charge of $37.00. The student receives full credit for all labor performed, the total amount being deducted from the monthly charge of $37.00. All labor is rated at the close of each month by the labor board, on a basis of an average of 22 cents per hour. Variation above and below this amount is made according to the faithfulness and efficiency of the student. A younger boy or girl, of course, cannot usually earn the highest, or even the average rate at first, but opportunity is given for improvement.†

Many students work two or three times the requirement, and are paid for overtime. We are glad to give this privilege whenever we have work to do, and the history of the past years leads us to believe that we shall have ample opportunity again next year. We cannot, however, promise any stated number of hours to any student. Young people vary so much in their faithfulness, efficiency, and adaptability to work given them that we might estimate entirely too low or too high and thus mislead. It is not necessary to write ahead and inquire for work, for we have no assurance that we can give one more than another. We shall do our best for all.

FEES

All students are charged an entrance fee of $3.75 at the beginning of each semester. This fee covers matriculation, library, minor medical attention, and all laboratory charges.

The matriculation and library fees are to pay for blanks used during the school year and to maintain the library. The medical fee provides for ordinary medical supplies and emergency equipment used by those in charge of the health of the school. It does not provide for medicines that should be prescribed for each student, nor for doctor's calls nor special nurse's attention, but for emergency cases and brief illness only. A moderate charge for nursing will be made in case of a long illness.

Typewriter rental:

COURSES OF STUDY

A student is admitted to the academic course upon the presentation of an Eighth Grade Certificate or grades from accredited schools, or lacking these upon passing satisfactorily examinations in subjects for which credit is claimed. Students are required to present grades from other schools upon matriculation.

To be graduated from the academic course a student must show evidence of good moral character, and meet these requirements:

1. Sixteen units of regular subjects are required for graduation. A unit is the value given to the work done in a subject covering thirty-six weeks of five- forty-five-minute recitations each.
2. In language study, two years of the same language are required for any credit.
3. Three years of English.
4. Two years of history, including American History and Government.
5. One year of mathematics.
6. One year of science with laboratory. (11 or 12 grade work.)
7. One year vocational subject—cooking, sewing, shop, baking, agriculture, etc.
8. One Bible subject for each year in Seventh-day Adventist schools.

Students are advised to enter upon a regular course of study if possible. Irregular students labor under a disadvantage because the daily program is arranged to meet the demands of the regular course.

Grade cards are issued each six weeks, a duplicate copy being sent to parents.

No semester grades are given students until their accounts are settled in full.

Incompletes on subjects must be removed within the semester following or no credit is allowed. Work must be made up with the school where the subjects were pursued.

Students coming from accredited public schools receive full credit for the work taken there, and should the course of study differ from that of our academy, proper substitution is allowed.

Completion of our academic course meets the requirements of Walla Walla College for college entrance, as well as every other college in the denomination.

Compliments of a Friend

● Fuller Paints . . . They Last! Yes, the name Fuller does stand for quality whether it be in paint, wall-paper, or any of the many fine products in the Fuller line. Always ask for "Fullers." . . . you'll be satisfied.

THE COLLEGE PRESS

You've heard "Printing for less" and all sorts of other mottos for printers. The College Press wants a motto! Our customers have suggested a great many . . . a great many more than these mottos. Read them . . . then decide which you like best . . .

- THE BEST FOR LESS
- PRINTING WITH THAT ARTISTIC TOUCH
- THE SHOP WHERE SAVING ORIGINATES

. . . AND THESE ARE JUST STARTERS . . .

--you choose one for us!

Ho! Hum!

I'm so-o sleepy . . . Whatever can I put on this last page? It seems that I'm all out of ideas.

I s'pose the Finis ought to be something—clever,—but I'm tired of thinking!

O well,—I hope they like it anyway. . . .
